

I am a frequent user of Video Relay Service for my professional and personal dealings and would hope that FCC will continue to fund this valuable service at the level that would allow for quality service. Thank you for your attention to this matter.